Specification of Competency Standards of the Beauty and Hairdressing Industry Unit of Competency

Functional Area: Operational Management

Range This unit of competency (UoC) is applicable in the hairdressing industry. It requires analysis, judgement and evaluation. Practitioners should be able to formulate and implement internal staff guidelines according to the established overall operational strategy of the organization to ensure its normal operation. Level 4 Credit 6 (for reference only) Competency Performance Requirements 1. Possess knowledge of staff guidelines • Understand the purposes, noting points and basic procedures for formulating staff guidelines as well as its operation in different periods of time, e.g.: • Understand the characteristics and process of the organization's daily and monthly routines as well as its operation in different periods of time, e.g.: cleaning of hairdressing tools/equipment, etc. • Understand times to be covered by the staff guidelines, e.g.: • Professional manner and behavior, e.g.: how to deal with customers/co-workers, be punctual, polite and tidy, etc. • Routine duties and authority • Procedures for handling customer enquiries, e.g.: making appointments, receiving deposits, etc. • Laws, regulations and standards for the hairdressing industry • Safety rules and envice provided by professional hair stylists and relevant staff • Doclaration of interest • Code of conduct and relevant penalties • Understand the mange of service provided by professional hair stylists and relevant staff • Doclaration of interest • Code of conduct and	Title	Formulate Staff Working Guidelines judgement and evaluation. Practitioners should be able to formulate and implement internal staff guidelines according to the established overall operational strategy of the organization to ensure its normal operation. Level 4 Credit 6 (for reference only) Competency Performance Requirements 1. Possess knowledge of staff guidelines • Understand the purposes, noting points and basic procedures for formulating staff guidelines as well as its operation in different periods of time, e.g.: • Understand the characteristics and process of the organization's daily and monthly routines as well as its operation in different periods of time, e.g.: • Understand times to be covered by the staff guidelines, e.g.: • Professional manner and behavior, e.g.: how to deal with customers/co-workers, be punctual, polite and tidy, etc. • Routine duties and authority • Procedures for handling customer enquiries, e.g.: making appointments, receiving deposits, etc. • Laws, regulations and standards for the hairdressing industry • Safety rules and deposits on the conditions (e.g. folliculits) • No judgement on medical conditions (e.g. folliculits) • No judgement and measure for advice or help 2. Formulate staff working guidelines in a reasonable and legal way and file them properly according to the established overall operational strategy of the organization • Laws, regulariy according to changes in t	Code	105436L4
Credit 6 (for reference only) Competency Performance Requirements 1. Possess knowledge of staff guidelines • Understand the purposes, noting points and basic procedures for formulating staff guidelines • Understand the organization's business motives, aims and concept • Understand the characteristics and process of the organization's duily and monthly routines as well as its operation in different periods of time, e.g. cleaning of hairdressing tools/equipment, etc. • Understant items to be covered by the staff guidelines, e.g.: • Professional manner and behavior, e.g.: how to deal with customers/co-workers, be punctual, polite and tidy, etc. • Routine duties and authority • Proceedures for handling customer enquiries, e.g.: making appointments, receiving deposits, etc. • Laws, regulations and standards for the hairdressing industry • Safety rules and emergency procedures in business locations and the reporting system • Declaration of interest • Code of conduct and relevant penalties • Understand the range of service provided by professional hair stylists and relevant staff • No judgement on medical conditions (e.g. folliculitis) • No judgement on medical conditions (e.g. dutical advice or help 2. Formulate staff working guidelines in a reasonable and legal way and file them properly according to the established overall operational strategy of the organization • Let the staff guidelines regularly according to changes in the industry and actual operalional strategy of the organization •	Range	judgement and evaluation. Practitioners should be able to formulate and implement internal staff guidelines according to the established overall operational strategy of the organization to ensure
Competency Performance Requirements 1. Possess knowledge of staff guidelines • Understand the purposes, noting points and basic procedures for formulating staff guidelines • Understand the organization's business motives, aims and concept • Understand the organization in different periods of time, e.g. cleaning of hairdressing tools/equipment, etc. • Understand times to be covered by the staff guidelines, e.g.: • Understand items to be covered by the staff guidelines, e.g.: • Understand items to be covered by the staff guidelines, e.g.: • Understand items to be covered by the staff guidelines, e.g.: • Understand items to be covered by the staff guidelines, e.g.: • Routine duties and authority • Procedures for handling customer enquiries, e.g.: making appointments, receiving deposits, etc. • Laws, regulations and standards for the hairdressing industry • Safety rules and emergency procedures in business locations and the reporting system • Declaration of interest • Code of conduct and relevant penalties • Understand the enge of service provided by professional hair stylists and relevant staff • No judgement on medical conditions (e.g. follicultis) • May suggest customers to seek professional medical advice or help 2. Formulate staff working guidelines • Commulate staff working guidelines • No judgement on medical condition (e.g. follicultis) • No judgement on medical condition (strategu) of the organization <	Level	4
1. Possess knowledge of staff guidelines • Understand the proposes, noting points and basic procedures for formulating staff guidelines • Understand the organization's business motives, aims and concept • Understand the characteristics and process of the organization's daily and monthly routines as well as its operation in different periods of time, e.g. cleaning of hairdressing tools/equipment, etc. • Understand times to be covered by the staff guidelines, e.g.: • Professional manner and behavior, e.g.: how to deal with customers/co-workers, be punctual, polite and tidy, etc. • Routine duties and authority • Procedures for handling customer enquiries, e.g.: making appointments, receiving deposits, etc. • Laws, regulations and standards for the hairdressing industry • Safety rules and emergency procedures in business locations and the reporting system • Declaration of interest • Code of conduct and relevant penalties • Understand the orking guidelines • No judgement on medical conditions (e.g. folliculitis) • May suggest customers to seek professional hair stylists and relevant staff • No judgement on medical conditions (e.g. folliculitis) • No yudgement on medical conditions (e.g. folliculitis) • No yudgement on medical conditions (e.g. folliculitis) • No judgement on medical conditions (e.g. folliculitis) • No judgement on medical conditions (e.	Credit	6 (for reference only)
 Criteria Formulate internal staff guidelines according to the established overall operational strategy of the organization and let the staff members understand the content of the guidelines through proper communication mechanism to ensure the quality of operation of the organization; and Update the staff guidelines according to changes in the industry and actual operational needs of the organization. 	Competency	 Possess knowledge of staff guidelines Understand the purposes, noting points and basic procedures for formulating staff guidelines Understand the organization's business motives, aims and concept Understand the characteristics and process of the organization's daily and monthly routines as well as its operation in different periods of time, e.g. cleaning of hairdressing tools/equipment, etc. Understand items to be covered by the staff guidelines, e.g.:
Remark	Assessment Criteria	 Formulate internal staff guidelines according to the established overall operational strategy of the organization and let the staff members understand the content of the guidelines through proper communication mechanism to ensure the quality of operation of the organization; and Update the staff guidelines according to changes in the industry and actual operational
	Remark	