Unit of Competency

Functional Area: Sales and Merchandising

Range This unit of competency is applicable to practitioners in the import and export industry to review shipping terms and payment methods in international trade to minimise payment risk and meet the needs of customers.  Level 3  Credit 4 (for reference only)  Performance Requirement 1. Possess knowledge of international trade • Know Incoterms (or shipping terms) and its application in international commercial transactions • Describe tasks, costs and risks associated with the delivery of goods in international trade • Describe terms of payment in international trade, e.g., cash in advance, and documentary credit • Describe different types of documentary credit, e.g., red clause credit, transferable credit, and standby credit • Describe different types of documentary credit, e.g., red clause credit, transferable credit, and standby credit • Describe different types of documentary credit, e.g., red clause credit, transferable credit, and standby credit • Describe different types of documentary credit, e.g., red clause credit, transferable credit, and standby credit • Describe different types of documentary credit, e.g., red clause credit, transferable credit, and standby credit • Describe different types of documentary credit, e.g., red clause credit, transferable credit, and standby credit • Describe different types of documentary credit, e.g., red clause credit, transferable credit, and standby credit • Describe different types of documentary credit, e.g., red clause credit, transferable credit, and standby credit • Describe different types of shipping terms if required 2.2. Review methods of payment methods from different perspectives, e.g., sale volume, business risks, operation costs, and cash flow management • Modify the current method of payment methods from different perspectives, e.g., sale volume, business risks, operation costs, and cash flow management • Modify the method of payment methods from different perspectives, e.g., sale volume, business risks, operation costs, and cash flow management • Cap	Title	Review shipping and payment terms in international trade shipping terms and payment methods in international trade to minimise payment risk and meet the needs of customers.  Level 3  Credit 4 (for reference only)  Performance Requirement 1. Possess knowledge of international trade • Know Incoterms (or shipping terms) and its application in international commercial transactions • Describe tasks, costs and risks associated with the delivery of goods in international trade • Describe terms of payment in international trade, e.g., cash in advance, and documentary credit • Describe different types of documentary credit, e.g., red clause credit, transferable credit, and standby credit 2.1. Review shipping terms • Collect relevant information and evaluate the costs and risks in current shipping terms for each customer • Conduct meetings with customers to discuss shipping terms • Provide a summary of information on shipping terms in international trade • Modify the current shipping terms if required 2.2. Review methods of payment • Review the terms and methods of payment for each customer • Seek advice from banks or specialists • Provide a summary on information of payment methods in international trade • Modify the current method of payment if required 3. Report the impacts of shipping and payment terms • Report the impacts of payment methods from different perspectives, e.g., sale volume, business risks, operation costs, and cash flow management • Modify the method of payment to minimise payment risk and accommodate the needs of customers  Assessment Criteria  The integrated outcome requirements of this unit of competency are: • Capable of reviewing shipping terms • Capable of reviewing shipping terms	Code	105199L3
Credit 4 (for reference only)  Competency Performance Requirement  1. Possess knowledge of international trade  • Know Incoterms (or shipping terms) and its application in international commercial transactions  • Describe tasks, costs and risks associated with the delivery of goods in international trade  • Describe terms of payment in international trade, e.g., cash in advance, and documentary credit  • Describe different types of documentary credit, e.g., red clause credit, transferable credit, and standby credit  2.1. Review shipping terms  • Collect relevant information and evaluate the costs and risks in current shipping terms for each customer  • Conduct meetings with customers to discuss shipping terms  • Provide a summary of information on shipping terms in international trade  • Modify the current shipping terms if required  2.2. Review methods of payment  • Review the terms and methods of payment for each customer  • Seek advice from banks or specialists  • Provide a summary on information of payment methods in international trade  • Modify the current method of payment terms  • Report the impacts of shipping and payment terms  • Report the impacts of shipping and payment terms  • Report the impacts of payment methods from different perspectives, e.g., sale volume, business risks, operation costs, and cash flow management  • Modify the method of payment to minimise payment risk and accommodate the needs of customers   Assessment  Criteria  The integrated outcome requirements of this unit of competency are:  • Capable of reviewing shipping terms  • Capable of reviewing shipping terms  • Capable of reviewing payment methods	Range	shipping terms and payment methods in international trade to minimise payment risk and meet
Competency  Performance Requirement 1. Possess knowledge of international trade  Know Incoterms (or shipping terms) and its application in international commercial transactions  Describe tasks, costs and risks associated with the delivery of goods in international trade  Describe terms of payment in international trade, e.g., cash in advance, and documentary credit  Describe different types of documentary credit, e.g., red clause credit, transferable credit, and standby credit  1.1 Review shipping terms  Collect relevant information and evaluate the costs and risks in current shipping terms for each customer  Conduct meetings with customers to discuss shipping terms  Provide a summary of information on shipping terms in international trade  Modify the current shipping terms if required  Review methods of payment  Review the terms and methods of payment for each customer  Seek advice from banks or specialists  Provide a summary on information of payment methods in international trade  Modify the current method of payment if required  Report the impacts of shipping and payment terms  Report the impacts of spayment methods from different perspectives, e.g., sale volume, business risks, operation costs, and cash flow management  Modify the method of payment to minimise payment risk and accommodate the needs of customers  The integrated outcome requirements of this unit of competency are:  Capable of reviewing shipping terms  Capable of reviewing shipping terms  Capable of reviewing payment methods	Level	3
1. Possess knowledge of international trade  Know Incoterms (or shipping terms) and its application in international commercial transactions  Describe tasks, costs and risks associated with the delivery of goods in international trade  Describe terms of payment in international trade, e.g., cash in advance, and documentary credit  Describe different types of documentary credit, e.g., red clause credit, transferable credit, and standby credit  2.1. Review shipping terms  Collect relevant information and evaluate the costs and risks in current shipping terms for each customer  Conduct meetings with customers to discuss shipping terms  Provide a summary of information on shipping terms in international trade  Modify the current shipping terms if required  2.2. Review methods of payment  Review the terms and methods of payment for each customer  Seek advice from banks or specialists  Provide a summary on information of payment methods in international trade  Modify the current method of payment terms  Report the impacts of shipping and payment terms  Report the impacts of payment methods from different perspectives, e.g., sale volume, business risks, operation costs, and cash flow management  Modify the method of payment to minimise payment risk and accommodate the needs of customers  The integrated outcome requirements of this unit of competency are:  Capable of reviewing shipping terms  Capable of reviewing shipping terms  Capable of reviewing payment methods	Credit	4 (for reference only)
Criteria	Competency	<ol> <li>Possess knowledge of international trade</li> <li>Know Incoterms (or shipping terms) and its application in international commercial transactions</li> <li>Describe tasks, costs and risks associated with the delivery of goods in international trade</li> <li>Describe terms of payment in international trade, e.g., cash in advance, and documentary credit</li> <li>Describe different types of documentary credit, e.g., red clause credit, transferable credit, and standby credit</li> <li>Review shipping terms</li> <li>Collect relevant information and evaluate the costs and risks in current shipping terms for each customer</li> <li>Conduct meetings with customers to discuss shipping terms</li> <li>Provide a summary of information on shipping terms in international trade</li> <li>Modify the current shipping terms if required</li> <li>Review methods of payment</li> <li>Review the terms and methods of payment for each customer</li> <li>Seek advice from banks or specialists</li> <li>Provide a summary on information of payment methods in international trade</li> <li>Modify the current method of payment if required</li> <li>Report the impacts of shipping and payment terms</li> <li>Report the impacts of payment methods from different perspectives, e.g., sale volume, business risks, operation costs, and cash flow management</li> <li>Modify the method of payment to minimise payment risk and accommodate the needs of</li> </ol>
Remark		Capable of reviewing shipping terms
	Remark	